

Evaluation of Patient Preferences for and Cost Effectiveness of Community Intravenous Antibiotic Services

You are cordially invited to a free briefing event where the findings of the NIHR funded CIVAS: Patient Preferences for and Cost Effectiveness of OPAT services project will be presented.

Topics covered will include the current evidence base for OPAT services, how patients think such services should be run, and an analysis of the cost effectiveness of different service models.

By attending you will hear first -hand the findings of the study and have the opportunity to ask questions and network with colleagues to consider the findings of the study.

The event is relevant to Leads for Clinical Commissioning Groups, Acute Trusts, Healthcare professionals providing (or planning) OPAT services, Central Government Departments including Department of Health, Directors/Heads of Policy.

Places are limited to the first 60 applicants so please be quick to register your interest now by contacting Anna Halliday: A.Halliday@leeds.ac.uk
